

RICH ROBLEDO
DIRECTOR

Rich Robledo has over ten years of experience as a licensed real estate salesperson and broker in all aspects of the real estate industry. He works with several banks and servicing companies to bring property to market and assists discerning buyers and sellers with their real estate needs.

Rich has relationships with many financial institutions and key players in the real estate market, which allows him access to many avenues that help facilitate all of his client's needs.

He has successfully owned and operated multiple real estate brokerages in Las Vegas, is currently working on obtaining his Brokers license in the state of California and looks forward to opening his first office in San Diego later this year.

Along with his professional accomplishments, Rich is a retired military veteran and a family man who prides himself on being involved with many local organizations and charities.